

WEST LIBERTY UNIVERSITY BOARD OF GOVERNORS
POLICY 31: HIV/AIDS INFECTION

STATEMENT:

West Liberty University recognizes that individuals with HIV/Aids infections are considered to have disabling conditions. As such, these individuals are afforded protection from the University's various non-discrimination policies and State and Federal non-discrimination laws. In addition, the University recognizes that the human consequences of HIV/Aids infection must be treated in a context of informed decision-making.

The University further recognizes that it can best benefit the University community by providing learning opportunities related to HIV/Aids infection. The University has developed and will maintain educational programs to heighten awareness, emphasize prevention, identify available supportive services, and survey practical risks and other considerations associated with the HIV/Aids virus.

In order to implement these program initiatives, the President has appointed a standing committee of individuals representing a cross-section of the campus constituencies. The West Liberty University Health Promotions Committee has been assigned this responsibility.
